

UCSD Cognitive Science Colloquium

Mondays at noon in CSB 003

10.06.14 - Roger Levy, UCSD Linguistics Compositionality in probabilistic semantics and pragmatics: Bayesian "and" and "or"

10.20.14 - John Serences, UCSD Psychology Representations of attentional priority in human visual cortex

10.27.14 - Patricia Churchland, UCSD Philosophy
The Brains Behind Morality

11.03.14 - Tanya Luhrmann, Stanford University Invisible others: how metacognitive practices make the unseen real

11.10.14 - Dedre Gentner, Northwestern University Analogy: The key to higher-order cognition

11.17.14 - Edwin Hutchins, UCSD Cognitive Science
TBA

11.24.14 - Alison Gopnik, UC Berkeley
When children are better (or, at least, more open-minded) theorists than adults: Theory formation, causal models and the evolution of learning

12.01.14 - Carol Padden, UCSD Communication Co-emergence of meaning and structure in a new language

12.08.14 - Linda Smith, Indiana University
A bottom-up view of word learning